Housing Policy Debate

Housing Policy Debate is published quarterly. The goal of this journal is to provide insightful discussion and original research on a broad range of housing and community development issues. Recent articles have explored the challenges facing public housing, the future of American cities, the link between housing and neighborhood quality, and how growth management practices impact the supply of affordable housing.

Housing Policy Debate regular issues are divided into three sections: Forum, Articles, and Current Issues. The Forum section features informative debate among leading experts on timely topics through a lead article and responding comment. The Articles section presents policy analysis and research, and in Current Issues authors have the opportunity to present their ideas on issues in housing, community development, and finance. Articles in the Forum and Articles sections undergo a double-blind review by members of the Fannie Mae Foundation Housing Research Advisory Board and other respected scholars.

To obtain more information or submit manuscripts for consideration for publication, please contact Robert E. Lang; Managing Editor, Housing Policy Debate; Fannie Mae Foundation; 4000 Wisconsin Avenue, NW; North Tower, Suite One; Washington, DC 20016-2804.

Manuscripts should be original, unpublished works not under consideration for publication elsewhere. The author is responsible for obtaining any necessary rights or permissions to reproduce quoted material or illustrations published elsewhere. To be considered for publication, manuscripts need not follow the Housing Policy Debate style guide shown in the back of this issue but if accepted, the manuscript must conform to these guidelines. Generally, the editorial style of Housing Policy Debate follows The Chicago Manual of Style.
